Cultural Heritage, Scientific Innovation, and Historical Cuisine: A Tour of Iloilo's Art, Biotechnology, and Ancestral Home

Explore the traditional and complementary medicine practices in the province through three of Iloilo's historic sites. You can discover the heart of West Visayan identity at the UPV Museum of Arts and Cultural Heritage (UPV MACH), exploring seven galleries of art, textiles, and cultural memory. Then, step inside the University of San Agustin Center for Chemical Biology & Biotechnology (C2B2) to see Filipino scientists transforming local biodiversity into cutting-edge health solutions. Conclude your tour with an intimate, home-cooked Filipino meal at Casa Maruja, a beautifully preserved, century-old ancestral residence built in the 1920s.

Together, we can experience Iloilo's powerful blend of creativity, innovation, and history!
